

CPYRGHT

HAZARDS OF TOURING IN SOVIET RUSSIA

NEW YORK—Two American tourists who were held for seven weeks in Russia returned to the U. S. October 20. Mark Kaminsky, 28, and Harvey Bennett, 26, denied Russian statements that they were involved in espionage. The two also denied published rumors that they worked for the Central Intelligence Agency and that they had confessed, at a Russian hearing, gathering information for a book. He was given a seven-year suspended sentence and expelled from the Soviet Union.